DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the lead frame coupled via wires must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

A proposed drawing correction or corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Although Applicant points out in the remarks that such is shown in Fig. 1, see that Fig. 1 is prior art.

Claim Objections

Claims 7,8,15,16 are objected to because of the following informalities: See, for example, that claim 7 will be grammatically correct and the scope will be made clear if amended to read "...claim 6, wherein each of the plurality..." The same applies for all other objected claims. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) do not apply to the examination of this application as the application being examined was not (1) filed on or after November 29, 2000, or (2) voluntarily published under 35 U.S.C. 122(b). Therefore, this application is examined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

Claims 1-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Miki et al. (US 5892276).

Miki et al. discloses an apparatus comprising (See Fig. on cover):

- A plurality of bond pads 4B configured in an array;
- A first plurality of driver cells 8P located nearer to a nearest (edge closest to pads) die edge than the plurality of bond pads; and a second plurality of driver cells 8n located farther from the nearest edge than the plurality of bond pads
- Bond pads configured in a staggered array
- Pre-driver cells 10GND located farther from the nearest die edge than the second plurality of driver cells, with an inner/outer ring of bond pads (See Fig. on cover)
- Metal connections 9B, each of the metal connections coupling one of the first and second plurality of driver cells to one of the plurality of bond pads

- Conductive interconnects 9, each of the plurality of pre-driver cells coupled to one of the first and second pluralities of driver cells be at least one of the plurality of conductive interconnects
- The plurality of conductive interconnects 9 substantially more narrow in width than the plurality of metal connections

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 8-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Miki et al.

See that Miki et al. discloses all the structural limitations discussed above. However see that Miki et al. fails to specifically disclose:

- Driver cells with a width of approximately 80 microns
- A lead frame

See that:

- The claimed width does not cause any critical or unexpected results to the device's operation. Rather it is merely an obvious design choice determined by routine experimentation. In Aller, the court stated "Where the general conditions of a claim are disclosed in the prior art, it is not inventive to discover the optimum or workable ranges by routine experimentation." In re Aller, 220 F.2d 454, 456 105 USPQ 233,235 (CCPA 1995).

Also, see that although Miki et al. is silent about the use of a lead frame, lead frames are well known and widely used among semiconductor artisans, and applicant admits so in page 4 of the amendment/remarks.

Therefore:

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art, at the time the invention was made, to incorporate pads of the claimed width and to use a lead frame in order to provide the device enough interconnecting/bonding area and a good well known frame in order to connect the bond pads via bond wires.

Applicant's arguments with respect to the claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new grounds of rejection, which was necessitated by the amendment.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new grounds of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within

Application/Control Number: 09/475,643
Art Unit: 2827

Page 6

TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
